COVID-19 Lockdown Exhibition

Raglan members & the broader community are invited to enter our FREE exhibition

During the lockdown period most of us will have had time to reflect how this event has affected us. It will have had a different impact on each and every one of us. Some sailing through it with not really much change to their lives and some experiencing a huge change. Why not use this exhibition to show us your creativity during this period in our lives.

ART IN MINIATURE CANBERRA (A.I.M.)

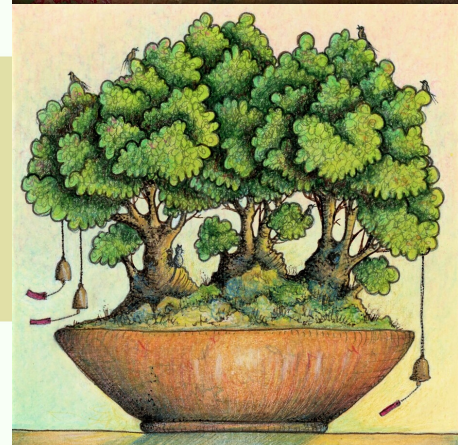

ART IN MINIATURES

The Art in Miniature Canberra friendship group would like to invite you to a delight of miniature art works, an art form that has existed since the 8th Century. It was then that the Islamic influence flowed through to Indian, Chinese and Nth African art. In the Western world the earliest examples can be found in the illuminated capital letters of church manuscripts. The letters were often decorated in pure gold leaf and around them were pictures of everyday life, or scenes from the Bible.

The group has been exhibiting since its inception in 2001. This year is the group's 20th exhibition.

FIONA SMITH & CHARLOTTE WHITBY

SATURDAY 22ND AUGUST 2020

AT THE RAGLAN GALLERY COOMA

"We are drawn back to the plains and the mountains in all the seasons of the year, our hearts fluttering like Bogong moths as we catch sight of the granite boulders of Berridale. They are scattered among paddocks as if tossed aside by a petulant marble-playing giant."

Artists Charlotte Whitby and Fiona Smith both have deep connections to the Snowy-Monaro Region. They have teamed up to stage an exhibition of their paintings at Cooma's Raglan Gallery, from August 15 to September 26.

Charlotte married into a six-generation Toowoomba Valley farming family, moving from Canada as a new bride to live in Cooma and work as a graphic designer in Jindabyne. Fiona's family have been involved in operating ski lodges since the 1940s through the Southern Alps club and then the Australian Alpine Club.

The artists both now live in Sydney and are drawn up the Monaro Highway multiple times a year.
